

May 20, 2007

Dear Karl,

I just wanted you to know how much I am enjoying using the HECAT FAC-400 A/C component flushers; both at my place of business, Silver Ace Aviation, and my home shop.

At Silver Ace Aviation, we provide complete maintenance service for individually and corporate owned aircraft. A number of these planes utilize vapor cycle cooling (A/C) systems just like the auto industry. One of our specialties is maintaining, servicing and converting these systems.

For years, I have used the small flush gun type flushing systems that are very labor intensive, costly in terms of fluid usage and somewhat inefficient in removing contaminants in condensers and evaporators. Since we recently purchased the HECAT FAC-400, we now look forward to any flush operation because of the ease of use, minimal labor spent setting up and monitoring the operation, economy of fluid expense due to the filtering and recycling of the flush fluid, containment of fumes, and the thorough component flushing due to the pulsing action of the unit. We are also very happy with the performance of the HECAT Safe-Flush A/C flushing fluid and plan on using this exclusively to take advantage of the Lifetime Warranty on both flushers.

I have included a few pictures using the HECAT FAC-400 and FAD-100 adapter kit on a Beech King Air 200, which had suffered a compressor failure.

At home, I maintain and restore multiple cars and trucks including complete air conditioning service. I was so impressed with the HECAT FAC-400 at my business that I bought a second unit for my home shop. I can now do a complete and professional job at home with only me as the soul operator. With the HECAT FAC-400 and the RRR machine I use; time has been cut at least in half compared to what we used to spend accomplishing these same tasks.

I have been very impressed with your knowledge of the product, its use, willingness to answer any and all questions, prompt delivery of products, product support and customer service. It is a pleasure doing business with your company and a joy to operate your machines.

Sincerely,

Bill Mercure
President
Silver Ace Aviation
Peachtree City, GA
silace@bellsouth.net

NOTE: Hecat, Inc. does not pay for testimonials and has no agreement to compensate any of the participants for time lost to answer questions regarding Hecat products. For this reason we ask that you respect that these professionals have businesses to run and please refrain from interrupting their very busy workdays with phone calls. If you must, please present any question by e-mail so they may respond at a time that is most convenient for them. Thanks for understanding.